1920 BASEBALL SEASON OPENS

The 1920 baseball season was ushered in last Sunday with two remarkably fast games, considering that they were the first games of the series, and if these games are a criterion of what is to come, Kauai is due this season to see the fastest ball in the history of the game on the island.

LIHUE-McBRYDE GAME.

Manuel Perreira, star mound man for Lihue, lost his game in the first inning by going into the box without properly "warming up." The result was that McBryde landed on him for six clean hits which netted seven runs before the agony was ended.

It certainly looked as though the fans were to witness a regular slaughter of the innocents. But during that one nightmare of an inning Perreira got the warming up he needed, and from then on he pitched stellar ball, and with the able support of his team mates, allowed the visitors only one more run during the other eight innings. Although he was hammered unmercifully the first inning, he did not walk a man during the entire game.

Robello, for McBryde, pitched a fairly good game, but had difficulty in "getting 'em over" at times, with the result that four Lihue men got passes. Gabriel, the McBryde backstop nearly lost the game for his team by his wild pegs to second, and it was the merest luck that Lihue did not tie the score.

Henderson, at the initial sack, is a tower of strength for McBryde and as captain of the team, will undoubtedly make that aggregation a formidable contender for the pennant. Henderson is an experienced ball player, and although he looks out for the interest of his team, he is a genuine sport, and what ever the ump's decide goes with him whether it is for or against.

Manuel Prioste made his initial bow as a big leaguer by holding down first for Lihue. His work proved to be all that could be desired. He got 'em, however they came—grabbing 'em out of the sky or digging 'em out of the ground—it was all the same to Prioste—and he never let one get by.

The way Lihue recovered after such a poor start was joy to the hearts of the home fans. Although it seemed impossible to overcome such a handicap, they gradually crept up, with one run in the first, two in the fifth, one in the seventh and three in the lucky ninth.

After the slaughter of the first inning, McBryde did not score again until the ninth, when they succeeded in squeezing a man home, making the final score, McBryde 8, Lihue 7.

A. Q. Marcellino was chief umpire, with J. G. Guyot on bases. The umpiring was high class, with both ump's and teams working in perfect harmony.

NEXT SUNDAY'S GAMES
Makae vs Lihue at Kapaa.
Makaweli vs. Kilauea at Makaweli.

MAKEES AND KILAUEA BATTLE TEN INNINGS

Playing an uphill game with fortune balking them at every turn during the early innings, the Makees nosed out the Kilauea team at Kilauea in a ten inning game by the score of 7-6, the winning run being scored with the aid of a sacrifice fly. A large crowd was out to cheer for their favorites and automobiles surrounded the field.

Barrette started the trouble for the Makees in the first inning by his inability to locate the plate and a run was scored when catcher Soong failed to stop one of his low shoots. The Makees tied the score in the third, Kilauea being held runless. The fireworks started in the 3rd when W. Akana first up, singled. It was here that pitcher Barrette lost control of the ball completely and walked the next two batters, filling the bases with none down. Morita was called in to stem the tide, but with the big handicap, could not prevent Pacheco from cleaning the bases with a three bagger to left field. Two additional hits in succession added another run to Kilauea's total, and another run was secured by them in the fourth, making it six to one in their favor, and their supporters were jubilant.

The Makees gave their supporters a little hope in the 6th when they secured a solitary run. In the "lucky seventh" they scored twice when

"Green Stockings" Record Dramatic Success of Kauai

The high tide of dramatic enterprise for Lihue was certainly attained last Saturday night in the presentation of "Green Stockings" at the Tip Top theatre.

The play is an ambitious one, of more than usual interest and quality, depicting English life and character, and turning on the old English custom which requires green stockings for the old maid daughter, who does not get married in her proper turn.

The heroine of the play, Celia Faraday, aged 28, the wearer of the green stockings, was Florence Paine, who played a difficult part remarkably well, in fact brilliantly. The transformation of the sane, sensible, practical girl who is the mainstay of the household, into the gracious and attractive society woman of the second half of the play, was very well done.

The two married daughters, Madge and Evelyn, home on a visit, were taken by Madeline Soule and Dorothy Gooch. By their intelligent grasp of the situation, their personal charm, and their becoming costumes, they gave artistic grace and finish to the scene.

As Phyllis Faraday, the youngest daughter, Mrs. Sam Carter did the frivolous and thoughtless, but beautiful girl, with a fine comprehension and an easy grace.

Grace Haskell, as Aunt Ida, rendered a difficult part with such complete sympathy and understanding, as made her one of the most interesting characters in the play.

Karl B. Morgan, as the hypothetical hero who suddenly appears on the scene in real life, played his part with the insight and ease of an experienced actor. With singular adroitness he overcomes the heroine's objections and finally wins her in spite of herself.

C. M. V. Forster, as the pompous and imperious English father, very much the master in his own home, was wonderfully well done. To realize how fine was his acting one needs to know how kindly and courteous he is in real life, and how much he had to put on.

Admiral Brice, retired, was taken by H. M. Aldrich, who did the part very well, and whose diction was particularly clear and forcible.

W. F. Horner, as Tarver, the aspiring politician, in love with Phyllis, was the traditional English politician to a fine finish.

A. G. Hutton and J. B. Corstophine did the young society swells with that fine perception that indicated that they knew whereof they spoke.

J. O. Warner, as Martin, the servant, was obsequious and deferential as an English servant should be.

Not by any means to be forgotten, though not appearing on the stage, was Lottie Jordan, the efficient property woman and general factotum for everything that was wanted, or that had to be done.

Karl B. Morgan deserves much credit for the training of the players, and for holding things together and keeping them going.

The receipts of the play were about $400.00. The performance will be repeated at Waimea on the evening of Saturday, June 19th.

APPRECIATION

The members of the cast of "Green Stockings" wish to take this opportunity of expressing their appreciation to all who helped make the play a success. To Mr. Karl B. Morgan should be given unlimited praise for his untiring interest and effort in directing the play. It was due to Miss Lottie Jordan that the setting of the stage was so beautiful.

Thanks are due to the women of the community who were so generous in furnishing flowers, costumes and make-up, also to all the members of the many committees.

Just how much was realized has not been determined, but at least $400 will go toward equipping the school kitchen.

Mr. H. W. Ako is leaving on a business trip to Honolulu tonight where he expects to complete arrangements for various agencies which he expects to handle when he returns. Some of the lines are accessories, paper and stationery, woolen goods and cigars.

SCHOOL SURVEY REPORT MANY RADICAL MEASURES

The 13 recommendations as made by the survey report are as follows:

- 1.—Prepare young people to meet the occupational needs of the Islands.
- 2.—Lengthen school day to seven or eight hours.
- 3.—Extend the membership of the board of educational commissioners to seven, one from Kauai, one from Maui, two from Hawaii and three from Oahu. Have the board appoint the superintendent.
- 4.—Provide county boards of education on all principal Islands.
- 5.—Provide a reserve fund from which money can be borrowed as needed by the schools.
- 6.—Organize junior high schools to provide a connecting link between the elementary and high schools.
- 7.—Provide supervisors for each high school.
- 8.—Make effective Territorial laws governing public supervision of private schools.
- 9.—Completely re-organize the Normal School and abandon present site.
- 10.—Organize kindergarten classes in all schools.
- 11.—Establish school groups in populous localities and provide group supervisors.
- 12.—Completely abolish all foreign language schools.
- 13.—Increase financial support of school system.

The School Survey report has arrived,—in part the full text, in part only in synopsis outline.

The outline summary above will give a fair idea of the scope and nature of the same.

Two or three points may be emphasized by way of explanation.

Education for Results

1. Education is to be shaped to fit the children to meet the occupational needs and opportunities of the Islands. Presumably this means to a greater extent than at present. We trust it also means more discrimination in the education of children,—not all ground through the same hopper.

Enlarged Powers of Board

2. Enlarge the board of commissioners—seven instead of six as at present, three instead of two for Oahu. And, more important, this board to be the official and responsible head of the school system, with authority to appoint the superintendent and to appoint

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENTS TO KEALIA PLANTATION STORE

The Kealia Store has been undergoing a campaign of thorough renovation, extension and improvement, which has transformed it almost beyond recognition. The changes have added very materially to the size of the building and more still to the attractiveness and convenience of the store. The alterations and extensions will enable them to do fuller justice to the really excellent stock which they carry, and to serve their patrons with that promptness and despatch which is the aim of every up-to-date public institution.

Manager Grote is certainly making good and deserves the appreciation of the purchasing public.

One of the improvements which will be hailed with joy, is the installation of a soda fountain where real, true-to-goodness ice cream will be dispensed. Mr. Grote believes the public will appreciate real ice cream, even if it costs a trifle more.

50,000 RAINBOW TROUT EGGS ARRIVE FOR PUUKAPELE

The 50,000 Rainbow trout eggs which were arranged for some time ago, arrived last Friday under the care of I. H. Wilson, who took them to the upper regions of Puukopele Park where he will superintend the hatching of the same.

This experiment will be watched with a great deal of interest by the fish commission, as well as by sportsmen throughout the territory.

Rev. H. A. Rudin of Honolulu preached at Lihue Union Church last Sunday morning from the text "Pure religion and undefiled is this to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction and to keep oneself unspotted from the world." The sermon was intensely practical and dealt with the false and true evidences of a personal christian faith. The congregation was deeply impressed. Miss Wilson sang a solo with pleasing effect.

Next Sunday childrens day will be observed both in the Sunday school and morning church service

Kauai Branch of Housewives League Under Way

The organization of the Kauai branch of the Housewives League is well under way. Ladies throughout the Island have been selected and asked to act as direct captains for the purpose of securing members, and it is expected that by next week each district will have been fully canvassed and a big, businesslike organization established.

Mrs. Eric Knudsen, who has been appointed organizer of the Kauai branch, writes from Honolulu that if the ladies of Kauai desire a local office they can have it, but thinks it best to get the branch well under way and a going concern before this is attempted.

Following is a list of the ladies who have been appointed district captains:

Haena	Mrs. Menefoglio
Hanalei	Mrs. Sanborn
Kilauea	Mrs. Larsen
Kapaa	Miss Hundley
Kealia	Mrs. Wolters
Hanamaulu	Mrs. Hopper
Lihue	Mrs. Young
Koloa	Mrs. Cropp
McBryde	Mrs. Wolff
Elelee	Mrs. Roendahl
Hanapepe	Mrs. Brodie
Makaweli	Mrs. B. D. Baldwin
Makaweli	Mrs. Sinclair Robinson
Waimea	Mrs. Brandt
Kekaha	Mrs. Danford
Mana	Mrs. Weber

KINAU TOWNS ANNIE E TO PORT IN SINKING CONDITION

Last Thursday evening as the Kinau was rounding Kaena Point a sailing vessel was sighted showing signs of distress. Captain Gregory changed his course so as to bring his ship alongside the distressed vessel and found it was the Annie E, and that she was in an almost sinking condition on account of having sprung a leak.

The crew of the vessel had been at the pumps until they were almost exhausted, and it is said, they could not have remained afloat much longer.

Although handicapped on account of having no deck hands, Captain Gregory maneuvered his vessel alongside the stricken ship and succeeded in getting his lines aboard, and towed her back to the entrance of Honolulu harbor.

KAUAI PARADISE FOR TOURISTS

William Sellnader, general passenger agent of the Matson Navigation Co. visited Kauai last week for the purpose of seeing what we have to offer the tourist. He was taken in hand by certain people who have the welfare of the Island at heart, and shown the Barking Sands, Spouting Horn, the canyons, Hanalei district and other places of interest. He was enthusiastic over what he saw and said the Garden Island's scenic beauties were one of the territory's greatest assets. The only thing needed now is suitable accommodations for the tourists while they are on the Island.

Mr. Sellnader is managing editor of the Matson "Aloha," an illustrated magazine of much beauty, devoted to the beauties of Hawaii. While here he arranged for illustrated Kauai articles for the same.

NEW Y SECRETARY

Mr. R. C. Macdonald, a Y recruit just from the Coast, arrived on the Kinau this morning, to take the position of associate secretary in the Kauai Y. M. C. A. Mr. Macdonald is an experienced, all round Y man with credentials that indicate that he is an athlete, musician, mechanic and organizer. For four years he was an instructor in mechanics for the West Side Y. M. C. A., New York city. He spent three years and a half on the Mexican border and the last six months he has been working among the lumber jacks at Knappton, Wash. At the latter place he built two huts for Y uses, one of them being a large gymnasium. Mr. Macdonald, it is safe to say, is the type of young man that local conditions demand and Kauai Y is fortunate to secure him.

Lihue Plantation and Grove Farm furnished crews to assist in discharging freight from the Kinau last Friday morning.

SUPERVISORS HOLD REGULAR MEETING

At 10 o'clock a. m. on Wednesday June 2, 1920, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Kauai held its regular monthly and business meeting at its office.

Present: T. Brandt, W. D. McBryde, J. F. Bettencourt, Jr., A. Menefoglio.

Mr. Wishard was absent from the County on a leave of absence.

Mr. McBryde moved that during the period of the absence of Mr. Wishard, Mr. Brandt be elected temporary chairman, and being seconded by Mr. Menefoglio the motion carried.

The minutes of the meetings of May 5th last were read and approved.

There were present at the meeting Miss Elsie Wilcox, Commissioner of Public Instruction, Miss B. E. L. Hundley, Supervising Principal, and Mr. Wm. C. McClusky, Principal of the High & Grammar School. Miss Hundley submitted to the Board a requisition (P 1799) for school needs. The School Officials were duly heard by the Board on matters pertaining to buildings and other school matters.

The Board upon proper motions instructed the County Road Supervisor and Engineer to give his attentions to the following matters:

1. To arrange for two extra rooms for the use of the Kapaa School, at the same time investigate the present conditions of the said school's main building if it is strong enough to stand the weight of a second story, and if it is, said Engineer to call in bids for materials and for the construction of the new additions.

2. To secure two extra rooms for the use of the Hanamaulu School.

3. To build as soon as practicable a new bungalow for the use of the Mana School.

4. To prepare plans and advertise for bids for material and for the construction of a three room building for the use of the High School. This was asked of the Board by Mr. Gibson Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction (P1800).

5. To call in bids for necessary supply of asphalt for the County's use with full power to accept or reject any or all bids.

6. To macadamize as soon as practicable a road in the Koloa District leading to the Catholic Church and

AN EAST AFRICA SUGAR MAN

Mr. C. Hornung, a sugar planter of the Zambesi River region, East Africa, who is making a tour of the principal sugar countries of the world, was on Kauai last week looking over the sugar interests and developments here.

He reports that East Africa is almost hopelessly in the rear in sugar cultivation and manufacture as compared with Hawaii. They have very poor varieties of cane, slovenly, inefficient methods of cultivation, and bungling, wasteful ways of manufacture, so that they get only about a ton to the acre.

As a result of what he has seen on Hawaii and elsewhere, he is going back to Africa to inaugurate a new order of things.

E. A. CREEVEY LEAVES DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

After five years as industrial supervisor of Kauai schools, E. A. Creevey has severed his connections with the department of public instruction and has entered the services of the Hawaiian Sugar Company, at Makaweli. The Creeveys will continue to live at Elelee for the next month or two.

Lihue Union Church

The annual meeting of the congregation will be held Thursday night, 7:30. All who are interested in church work are requested to be present.

SUNDAY MORNING SERVICE
11 o'clock

UNION SERVICE Sunday night, 7:30. There will be special music by the different choirs. All nations invited.
